My Father's Books

Translated by Christina E. Kramer
paper $24.95 ebook $16.95

“My Father's Books, with its hypnotic repetitions and its varied meditations on one and the same theme, is like an extended prose poem, an elegy in the form of a novel. Beautifully translated, it is a book to be savored.”

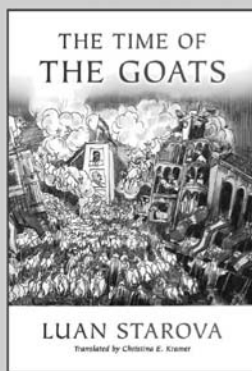

—Madeline G. Levine, translator of
Milosz's ABC's

LUAN STAROVA

is a novelist, poet, scholar, diplomat, and literary translator who writes in both the Albanian and Macedonian languages. He has served as the Republic of Macedonia's ambassador to France, Spain, and Portugal, and was formerly professor of French at the University of Skopje. His books have been translated into many languages.

The Time of the Goats

Translated by Christina E. Kramer
paper $24.95 ebook $16.95

“An appealing and compelling read. The wry, thoughtful voice of the narrator talks about tragic and complicated political events in ways that make them instantly understandable in all their complexity.”

—Ellen Elias-Bursac, winner of the 2006 National Translation Award

Approaches to Teaching WORLD LITERATURE

Approaches to Teaching the Plays of August Wilson

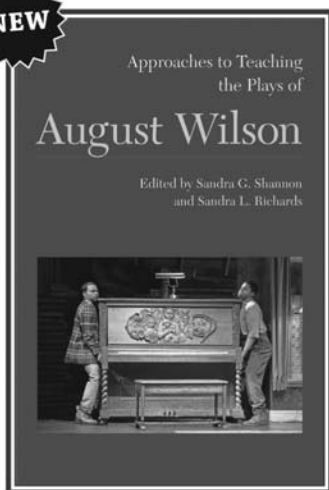

Edited by
SANDRA G. SHANNON
and SANDRA L. RICHARDS

"I am delighted with the range and quality of essays in this volume from established heavy hitters and exciting younger scholars. They are full of valuable perspectives and insights . . . that will register with both teachers and students."

—Steven Tracy
University of Massachusetts, Amherst

August Wilson used drama as a medium to write a history of twentieth-century America through the perspectives of its black citizenry. In the plays of his Pittsburgh Cycle, he mixes African spirituality with the realism of the American theater and puts African American storytelling and performance practices in dialogue with canonical writers like Aristotle and Shakespeare.

Twentieth-Century Literature

Focusing on literary-cultural production emerging from or responding to the twentieth century, broadly construed, Twentieth-Century Literature offers essays, grounded in a variety of approaches, that interrogate and enrich the ways we understand the literary cultures of the times. This includes work considering how those cultures are bound up with the crucial intellectual, social, aesthetic, political, economic, and environmental developments that have shaped the early twenty-first century as well.

Lee Zimmerman, editor

Current issues of Twentieth-Century Literature are also available on Project Muse.
