Teaching Australian and New Zealand Literature

Edited by
NICHOLAS BIRNS,
NICOLE MOORE, and SARAH SHIEFF

"This volume provides resources and contexts for teaching Australian and New Zealand literatures for those increasingly worlded literature classrooms outside Australia and New Zealand."

—Philip Mead
University of Western Australia

The writing of Australia and New Zealand, though influenced by European literary movements, has developed on its own. This volume introduces themes such as the tension between the local and the global; the experience of the frontier; and the stories and perspectives of convicts, migrants, and refugees.

Twentieth-Century Literature

Focusing on literary-cultural production emerging from or responding to the twentieth century, Twentieth-Century Literature offers essays, grounded in a variety of approaches, that interrogate and enrich the ways we understand the literary cultures of the times. This includes work considering how those cultures are bound up with the crucial intellectual, social, aesthetic, political, economic, and environmental developments that have shaped the early twenty-first century as well.
