

MODERN LANGUAGE STUDIES

Modern Language Studies is a peer reviewed journal representing the wide-ranging critical and creative interests of Northeast Modern Language Association members. We publish scholarship, creative writing, interviews with writers and artists, reviews, and commentary on the professions of teaching, research, and writing.

We are particularly interested in, and welcome submissions of, unpublished primary documents of literary historical interest and special clusters exploring hybrid literary forms and intersectional readings; essays on the current challenges and transformations in higher education, graduate and faculty working conditions, pedagogy, and related topics; and fiction, poetry, narrative nonfiction and autotheory, graphic narratives, hybrid-form work, multimodal/multimedia work, creative audio projects, and blended genres.

Modern Language Studies is edited and produced in its entirety at Susquehanna University. For submission guidelines, and to find our Submittable portal, visit www.mlsjrn.com. Send all subscription inquiries and correspondence to mls@susqu.edu.

Twentieth- Century Literature

Focusing on literary-cultural production emerging from or responding to the twentieth century, Twentieth-Century Literature offers essays, grounded in a variety of approaches, that interrogate and enrich the ways we understand the literary cultures of the times. This includes work considering how those cultures are bound up with the crucial intellectual, social, aesthetic, political, economic, and environmental developments that have shaped the early twenty-first century as well.
